To whom this is may concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation in support of Abigail Coolidge's application to your new Graduate Nursing Program. I have had the privilege of working with Abigail during our clinical rotation at UCLA Santa Monica hospital Medical, 3NW Orthopedic surgical unit spring 2026. Throughout the clinical rotation, Abigail consistently demonstrated compassion, professionalism, confidence, and a genuine commitment to providing patient-centered care. Abigail has a natural ability to build trusting relationships with patients and families by listening carefully, communicating with empathy, and ensuring that each patient feels heard, respected, and valued.

She excels at providing personalized attention that reflects each patient's unique needs, preferences, and goals. Her confidence in the clinical setting allowed her to adapt quickly, think critically, and collaborate effectively with members of the healthcare team. She is eager to learn, receptive to feedback, and consistently seek opportunities to expand her knowledge and clinical skills. Her positive attitude, strong work ethic, and dedication to delivering compassionate, individualized care is commendable as she frequently spends extra time with patients to ensure they feel heard, respected, and supported throughout their care. She takes time to answer patient's questions, clarify treatment plans, provide education, and address concerns in a manner that promotes understanding and reduces anxiety. Abigail's ability to build meaningful therapeutic relationships fosters trust and enhances the patient's overall experience.

Abigail is intellectually curious and highly motivated to expand her clinical knowledge and skills. She actively seeks opportunities to learn, welcomes constructive feedback, and thoughtfully integrates recommendations into her practice. In addition to her clinical competence, she consistently demonstrated professionalism and empathy in every patient interaction. She approaches each encounter with kindness, respect, and cultural sensitivity while maintaining patient dignity and advocating for their needs.

Abigail's commitment to excellence, eagerness to learn, and genuine passion for providing compassionate, high-quality care makes her an exceptional clinician with tremendous potential for continued growth and leadership within the nursing profession. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
