To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation in support of Abigail Coolidge's application to your Nursing Program. I had the privilege of working with Abigail during our clinical rotation at UCLA Santa Monica hospital, Medical-Surgical I Oncology unit, fall 2025. I am also employed as an ICU nurse at Providence Little Company of Mary Medical Center in Torrance, where Abigail went on to complete an advanced medical-surgical cardiology rotation, so I know firsthand the standards she has trained under.

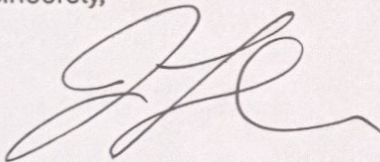

Throughout the semester, Abigail developed and demonstrated the essential skills required to manage patient care effectively. She completed patient assessments, identified priorities, communicated relevant findings, and participated thoughtfully in planning and evaluating care. She approached each clinical assignment with professionalism, accountability, and a willingness to learn.

Abigail also demonstrated competence in medication administration. She consistently asked questions and demonstrated confidence in her skills. She understood the importance of recognizing potential adverse effects, educating patients, and promptly communicating concerns to the healthcare team.

In addition to her clinical abilities, Abigail interacted respectfully and compassionately with patients, families, nursing staff, and other members of the interdisciplinary team. She was receptive to feedback and applied it constructively to improve her practice.

Based on my experience supervising her, I am confident that Abigail has the knowledge, professionalism, and dedication needed to succeed as a registered nurse. I recommend her for an RN position and believe she will be a valuable addition to your nursing team.

Sincerely,
